

Presents

Friday, July 24, 2015

6:00 – 7:00 p.m.

Worcester PopUP Gallery

20 Franklin Street

No more pencils, no more books ... just a few of Worcester's leadership proving that their knowledge is beyond elementary! Join us for a friendly competition between Worcester City Councilors and School Committee members as they show they're smarter, or at least as smart as, any 5th Grader. We'll test our contestants, and the tests, as we tackle challenging questions from MCAS and PARCC in English, math, and science. No opting out—come early and get a good seat! The event is free and open to the public.

Host: Hank Stolz, WCRN News-Talk Radio 830AM

Scorekeeper: Mayor Joe Petty, City of Worcester

Contestants: Moe Bergman, Worcester City Council
Tony Economou, Worcester City Council
Konnie Lukes, Worcester City Council
John Monfredo, Worcester School Committee
Tracy Novick, Worcester School Committee
Brian O'Connell, Worcester School Committee
Kate Toomey, Worcester City Council
Hilda Ramirez, Worcester School Committee

Many thanks to our partners at the City of Worcester, WCRN News-Talk Radio 830AM
Worcester Cultural Coalition, Worcester Business Development Corporation
Guertin Graphics & Awards, and Polar Beverages!

*Be sure to visit The Research Bureau at www.wrrb.org to keep up with our events and publications.
Like us on Facebook (The Research Bureau) and follow us on Twitter (@WRRBureau)!*