

The Research Bureau

Presents

Growth by Design: The Interplay Between Urban Development & Urban Design

Many cities view urban design as a critical component in an economic development strategy. Growth by Design will explore how Massachusetts communities integrate urban design into their local development efforts. Beginning with a primer on urban design by one of New England's leading urban designers, a panel of experts will discuss the challenges and opportunities for local governments in promoting and regulating urban design.

Presenter:

- Tim Love, FAIA, LEED AP, Principal, Utile

Panel:

- Michael DiPasquale, AIA, AICP, Executive Director, UMass Design Center
- Carolyn Misch, AICP, Senior Land Planner/Permits Manager, Northampton
- Claire V. Ricker, AICP, Chief Design Planner, Lowell
- Kairos Shen, Former Chief Planner, Boston Redevelopment Authority

Tuesday, May 2, 2017

7:45AM (Discussion Starts Promptly at 8:00AM)

DCU Center & Arena

Harvard Pilgrim Health Care Pavilion

50 Foster Street, Worcester

This event is generously sponsored by:

Commerce BankSM